Eaton Centre shooting suspect faced weapons charges before

Christopher Husbands. Suspect was out on $4,000 bail and under house arrest

Less than five weeks before the Eaton Centre shooting, accused murderer Christopher Husbands was in a Hamilton courtroom facing nine weapons charges and five counts of breaching bail.

Husbands, 23, who is facing two counts of first-degree murder and five counts of attempted murder, walked free in Hamilton after a prosecutor withdrew the nine weapons charges, which involved a loaded .40 calibre handgun.

At the time of the mall shooting on June 2, Husbands was out on $4,000 bail and under house arrest for an outstanding sexual assault charge from November, 2010.

Husbands has been detained for the Eaton Centre shootings pending his next court appearance Aug. 25.

On April 23, Husbands was in Hamilton court before Superior Court Justice James Ramsay on a 17-count indictment. He was facing nine weapon charges, two counts of obstructing a police officer, five counts of breaching his bail conditions and one count of possession of marijuana.

The weapons charges relate to a March 29, 2010, incident in Hamilton in which Husbands was found sleeping in a 2004 Nissan Maxima. Hidden in a vent of the vehicle was a Heckler and Koch .40-calibre handgun. The firearm magazine was capable of holding more than 10 rounds.

By the end of the hearing, prosecutor Carey Lee would withdraw the weapons charges and proceed on just five counts — two of obstructing a police officer, two of breaching a bail condition and a single count of possession of marijuana.

Husbands pleaded guilty to those five charges. He did not have a record, according to a court transcript.

Torstar News Service left numerous messages for Lee, 50, who is on a previously arranged, six-month sabbatical. A pair of letters left in the mailbox of his Hamilton home have gone unanswered.

Cuddly creatures. Toronto Zoo names new inhabitants

There were no "cute fights" but there were lots of smiles on Thursday as the Toronto Zoo announced the names of its youngest residents.

The zoo's three rare white lion cubs, two penguin chicks and lone Babirusa piglet were all officially named following an online vote for the public's favourite monikers. All six of the animals were born in captivity:

White lion cubs
Names: Fintan (male), Makali and Lemon.
Meaning: Fintan, from the Irish "Fionntán," means "little fair one." Makali is Swahili and means "daring," while Lemon was named for her bright yellow coat.

African penguins
Names: Chupa and Matata
Meaning: Neither name comes from any particular meaning, but Cynthia Shipley, manager of public relations and events for the zoo, suspects Matata may be homage to the Disney movie The Lion King's song Hakuna Matata.

Babirusa pig
Name: Muna
Meaning: Muna comes from the Swahili word for "hope," appropriate considering babirusas are critically endangered and Muna, a female, will be able to breed in about a year's time.

Completion of Spadina subway extension may miss deadline

Schedule 'out of sync.' Tunnelling was held up four months for probe into worker's death

TTC officials don't know whether they will be able to meet the scheduled late-2015 opening of the $2.6-billion Spadina subway extension into York Region.

They have yet to determine how much time they can recover from the months lost to an investigation that followed the death of a young construction worker on Oct. 11, 2011 at the York University work site.

It will be fall before the impact of that delay is known and publicly reported.

"The schedule is out of sync, and we lost time because of this fatality…. The real issue is whether we can recover this lost time or not," said TTC chief capital officer Sameh Ghaly.

An Ontario Ministry of Labour spokesman confirmed that a Do Not Disturb order — which requires an accident scene remain untouched — was in place between Oct. 11 and Feb. 16 on one sector of the construction site.

Meantime, two of the TTC's four giant tunnel-boring machines — affectionately known as Torkie and Yorkie — are sitting idle near the Schulich School of Business on the York University campus.

Work called compensation grouting, which protects the foundation of the business school, is now proceeding. But that has to be finished before the tunneling can continue, said Ghaly.

The tunneling delay at York won't affect the construction of the Eglinton West LRT. Metrolinx has bought its own set of giant tunnel-boring machines to dig the underground portion of that line, expected to be complete around the end of the decade.

Kyle Knox, 24, died at the York University construction site when a giant drill rig fell on the loader he operated. The Ontario Ministry of Labour investigation is continuing, said a spokesman. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Work continuing elsewhere

Two tunneling machines — Holey and Moley — are, however, proceeding south towards Downsview station from the new Sheppard West station, said TTC spokesman Brad Ross.

- Those are the same machines that were at the centre of a publicly marked milestone in June — the end of the tunnel drive on the 1.6-kilometre stretch between the new Sheppard West and Finch West stations.
- The custom-made tunnel-boring machines cost the TTC $58 million and began digging the twin tunnels of the 8.6-km subway last year.

Two West Nile cases suspected

Virus is back. Officials urge people to use mosquito repellents, wear light clothing and avoid going out at peak times of early morning and evening

An 80-year-old man and a 32-year-old woman are believed to have the mosquito-borne West Nile virus, and Toronto health officials fear more cases to come.

Dr. Howard Shapiro TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

The condition of the two is unknown, though officials said the man has been hospitalized and the woman is recovering at home.

Conclusive test results will not be available for at least another week, said Dr. Howard Shapiro, associate medical officer of health for Toronto Public Health. "We are headed towards what is considered a peak period for West Nile virus," he said on Thursday.

Conditions favour the proliferation of the virus. A mild winter followed by a hot summer allowed mosquitoes to live through the winter, Shapiro said.

The city has 120,000 catch basins in which scientists monitor the virus in mosquitoes, which get it from birds. Samples taken from 90 catch basins this year show record levels of the virus all across the city.

In 2011, there were 28 human cases of West Nile virus. There have not been any deaths from the virus in Toronto since 2005.

West Nile cases have also been reported in Durham, Peel and Halton regions, as well as in Windsor, where it was found while health workers were screening donated blood from a man who did not know he had the virus. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Crash. TTC driver charged after bus slams into downtown building

A TTC bus driver has been charged with careless driving after a bus collided with two vehicles and slammed into a building on Queen Street West.

The driver, 55, was headed north on Peter Street on July 22 when the bus collided with a Nissan headed west on Richmond. The bus continued along Peter, striking a taxi. It finally came to a halt when it crashed into a building on the west side of Peter at Queen.

Three people, including the driver, were taken to hospital with minor injuries.

The driver was charged on Thursday with failing to stop at a red light and careless driving and is expected to appear in court in September. Police are aware of what caused him to lose control but would not reveal that information, a sergeant from Traffic Services said. He confirmed that neither alcohol nor drugs was a factor. It is still unclear why the driver ran the red light, police said.

The driver will also face internal discipline from the TTC, a company spokesperson said. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Toronto couple's app puts voice to photographs

A new app promises to let budding memoirists sidestep the tedious task of typing and tell their life stories in photographs by recording their own voice with each photo.

The new app — SPOKEnPHOTO — developed by Toronto husband-and-wife team Hamid Arabzadeh and Lynne McEachern allows users to record their voice on top of photos on a smartphone, then send them directly to family and friends.

McEachern, co-founder of Spoke Technologies, says her inspiration came from trying to update her long-distance parents about her children's fast-changing lives.

"My husband and I have been developing SPOKEnPHOTO for the last year and are so proud to see Canadians get excited about adding voice to their photos this summer," she said.

"My kids are growing up so fast, so I use SPOKEnPHOTO to share special family moments via my iPhone with relatives abroad." METRO

Premier willing to recall house to get teachers to work

Labour. McGuinty says province can't afford pay hikes as it struggles with $15B deficit

Premier Dalton McGuinty reminded teachers Thursday he has the power to recall the legislature for an emergency session before Labour Day in order to introduce legislation that will force them back to work.

Education Minister Laurel Broten angered unions, school boards and teachers on Monday by saying the Liberal government will use legislation to force labour peace if they don't sign contracts by the end of the month. There are no details on what that legislation will be.

But before the Liberals do that, McGuinty stressed he is "hopeful" the school boards can do what Ministry of Education officials couldn't — negotiate agreements with the province's teaching unions. So far, only the Ontario English Catholic Teachers Association (OECTA) and a small support-staff union have worked out agreements.

Quoted

"Everyone from the Supreme Court to the government's own expert, Don Drummond, has said legislation will be overturned and leave us paying more in the long run. The premier ... seems more interested in playing politics than getting real results."

NDP MPP Jagmeet Singh

"We are running out of runway. School is about to begin. I am calling on all of our school boards and teacher groups to do everything they possibly can at their level now to see if they might secure agreements based on the road map we set out, based on our agreement with OECTA," McGuinty told reporters while visiting St. John's Catholic School in Kitchener.

On Sept. 1, if deals aren't in place, all the existing contracts roll over and the teachers will all get pay hikes.

The Ontario Public School Boards' Association is balking at the challenge the premier has given them. It is August, many are on vacation and now the province wants the boards to reach 400 collective agreements.

Refugees headed back home with aid from feds

Sharryn Aiken TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

At least 128 failed refugee claimants have jumped at the chance to return home with a little help from the federal government.

Since the Assisted Voluntary Return and Reintegration program was launched on June 29, the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) has interviewed 508 people, referred 294 to the International Organization for Migration (IOM), which administers the program abroad, and enrolled 128.

Ten failed claimants have already left for their home countries.

Under the program, Ottawa offers up to $2,000 and a one-way plane ticket to any refugee claimant denied asylum who will voluntarily go home. Failed applicants go back without losing the ability to return legally, and receive money to re-establish themselves; meanwhile, the government gets prompt removal and saves the cost of tracking and deporting failed claimants.

Cost savings

- It costs about $55,000 to process a failed refugee claimant under the current system. Under the new one, the average cost will be approximately $26,000.

European countries offering a similar program have had low participation rates, pointed out Sharryn Aiken, a law professor at Queen's University.

"So this sounds like a pretty decent uptake," she said. "But I can't fathom why so few were finally accepted in the program."

It is a mystery.

A CBSA spokesperson said it gauged eligibility of applicants and then referred them to the IOM. The IOM did not respond to requests for an interview.

Processing times vary from case to case, but the IOM aims to return individuals to their home countries within 30 days of their eligibility interview with the CBSA, said a spokesperson. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Rafferty appeals life sentence

Tori Stafford killing.
Appeal papers appear to have been filed from Kingston Penitentiary

Michael Rafferty, the man sentenced to life for the killing of eight-year-old Tori Stafford, is appealing his conviction on grounds the judge failed to properly instruct the jury.

In the appeal received by the Court of Appeal for Ontario on July 26, Rafferty also says the "jury failed to apprehend the evidentiary requirement to convict for first-degree murder."

If a new trial is ordered, he would like a trial by jury, Rafferty wrote from prison.

Rafferty missed the 30-day deadline to appeal his conviction but asked for an extension, attributing the delay to an "inability to use the telephone to contact legal counsel."

It is not uncommon for those sentenced to life to appeal.

Rafferty, 31, was sentenced May 15 in the abduction, rape and murder of the eight-year-old Woodstock girl.

Tori went missing on April 8, 2009, triggering one of the largest manhunts in Canadian history. Rafferty and Terri-Lynne McClintic, then lovers, were arrested a month later and charged. Tori's remains were found on July 19. McClintic pleaded guilty to first-degree murder and was sentenced to life in prison in April 2010.

Rafferty's trial, with shocking twists and turns, lasted 10 weeks. The jury took about a day to render a guilty verdict.

But presiding judge Thomas Heeney was criticized for excluding character evidence.

The jury never heard about evidence seized from Rafferty's laptop, including child pornography, torture videos and a movie about the abduction of a little girl. The jury also did not hear that Rafferty liked choking women during sex.

Heeney later defended his decision, saying the evidence was legally inadmissible.

Annan resigns from Syria mission

Frustrated by Syria's escalating civil war, Kofi Annan announced Thursday that he will quit his high-profile role as special envoy to the country at the end of the month, giving reasons that amounted to scathing criticism of world powers' failure to unite to stop the chaos in the Arab state.

Annan told reporters that when he accepted the job, he wanted to help find a peaceful solution to the crisis, to stop the killings of civilians and human rights abuses, as well as to place Syria on a path toward political transition. Annan told reporters that he cannot go on when the Security Council doesn't fully back him, particularly because of the stalemate between its five veto-wielding members: Russia and China on one side, the U.S., Britain and France on the other.

RIM to launch PlayBook for faster networks

Research In Motion is launching its new PlayBook tablet for advanced networks that will have a faster Internet experience, giving the Canadian tech company an updated product to sell before its new smartphones come to market.

RIM's latest PlayBook will be launched next week — in Canada first — and is designed for wireless networks with speeds equivalent to high-speed home Internet services on land lines.

The 4G LTE PlayBook tablet computer will be available Aug. 9 at Rogers, Bell and Telus — Canada's three largest carriers.

RIM said Thursday the price of the new PlayBook, which has 32 GB of memory storage, will depend on the region and provider. But Telus said it will sell for $549.99.

The new PlayBook is also ready for corporate email systems and keeps business information secure and separate from personal information, RIM said.

However, PC Magazine analyst Sascha Segan said any anticipation is for RIM's next generation of smartphones called BlackBerry 10.

Restructuring

- There are reports that RIM will shutter its few company-owned North American retail stores and reveal details of 3,000 jobs to be cut under a previously announced restructuring plan by the BlackBerry maker.
- A source familiar with RIM's retail presence said Wednesday that the company's last existing storefront in Michigan will soon shut down, as well as nine airport locations.

"Consumers are past the PlayBook now and they're waiting to see what happens with BlackBerry 10," said Segan, lead analyst for mobile devices.

The BlackBerry 10 smartphones, expected to be even more like mobile computers, are due out in 2013, about a year later than RIM had announced — leaving the company with an older inventory of smartphones to sell.

In addition to a faster Internet experience with LTE (Long-Term Evolution) technology, RIM's new PlayBook will give users clearer and smoother video streaming, multi-party video conferencing capabilities and fewer delays when there are multiple video game players, Segan said.

The original PlayBook was launched in April 2011, but sales have been slow and RIM has discounted some of the models amid stiff competition. RIM is phasing out the 16 GB PlayBook which was retailing for as little as $199 to focus on higher-end models.

Segan noted the latest PlayBook was supposed to be out last fall and was announced in February 2011.

RIM said the new PlayBook has the tablet's latest operating system software and also allows users to manage messages from Twitter, Facebook and LinkedIn.

The built-in calendar and contacts apps is integrated with social networks, providing users with information about their contacts at their fingertips.

RIM said its latest PlayBook will be available in the coming months from carriers in the U.S., Europe, South Africa, Latin America and the Caribbean.

Markets falter on ECB chief's remarks

European crisis.
Global investors push stock prices lower after failing to hear a detailed plan of action

European Central Bank President Mario Draghi said Thursday the bank would make a new effort to buy government bonds to drive down the high borrowing rates squeezing the continent's indebted governments. And he urged eurozone leaders to use their bailout fund to do the same.

However markets were disappointed that, while Draghi had committed the ECB to action, the plan was too short on detail.

Markets across Europe fell, while borrowing costs for countries such as Spain and Italy rose. Those costs are at the heart of the crisis, threatening indebted governments with a financial disaster that could rock the global economy.

The message from the ECB was clear: Europe's financial crisis is getting worse and requires more forceful remedies than leaders have so far been able to come up with.

SNOOP LION, A SILVER MEDAL AND TWITTER SHENANIGANS

THE LIST
Neil Morton
Metro

1 Fifty Shades of parody. My fave parody of Fifty Shades of Grey is housed on Twitter, @50ShedsofGrey, which already has more than 70,000 followers since launching. It describes itself as "erotica for the not-too-modern male." Sample tweet from this 'shed porn': "We tried various positions — round the back, up against a wall . . but the bottom of the garden was the only place for a really good shed." Lol.

2 The Campaign. Will Ferrell and Zach Galifianakis made a stop in Toronto Monday to promote their political comedy The Campaign (out Aug. 10). They pulled out all the stops — including a red carpet screening of the movie and a visit to the Hockey Hall of Fame, where they showed up not in a limo, but on a Zamboni. Great campaigning Canadiana style.

3 @stats_canada. The hilarious new Twitter account @stats_canada pokes fun at Statistics Canada — and the whole notion of demographic statistics and what relevance they have to Canadians. With tweets like "70% of Canadians believe Gordon Lightfoot is a yoga position," and "At any given time, 3 million Canadians are on a Timmie's run," this is a 99.9999 per cent must follow.

4 Bengals can't tweet. The NFL's Cincinatti Bengals have been banned from tweeting during training camp at the stadium by their coach Marvin Lewis to try and help them focus while they work out the next few weeks. Holy social media crackdown! What's next? No phone calls either? I don't get it.

5 Big Brother. A national casting call for the first Canadian edition of Big Brother began this week. The show will launch on the Slice network this winter, and applicants can apply at bigbrothercanada.ca. I couldn't apply to the upcoming Bachelor Canada (I'm married), but maybe I'll take a crack at this — or hold out for a Real Househusbands of Canada.

6 Jonah Lehrer. The writer resigned from his staff writer position at The New Yorker after he admitted to making up Bob Dylan quotes for his best-selling non-fiction book Imagine. Where will Lehrer and the book go from here? The answer, my friend is blowin' in the wind. But a hard rain's a-gonna fall.

7 Snoop Lion? 40-year-old Snoop Dogg announced this week that, 1) he is longer rapping (he's switching to reggae) and 2) he's changing his name to Snoop Lion after a spiritual and artistic rebirth while in Jamaica where he was given the new moniker by Rastafarian priests. This is one heck of a mid-life crisis.

8 Milos Raonic. In an epic four-hour long Olympic tennis match, Canada's tennis star came out on the losing end to France's Jo-Wilfried Tsonga 6-3, 3-6, 25-23. The third set was three hours long. As sports journalist Bruce Arthur tweeted during the match, "17-17, Tsonga serving. What a glorious moment it will be when Raonic or Tsonga's son wins this match one day."

9 Brady Bunch. Fans of the 70s hit show The Brady Bunch are salivating at the prospect of the show making a comeback. With Vince Vaughn as executive producer, CBS is apparently developing a reboot of the cult comedy. If this goes well, will remakes of Three's Company, Welcome Back, Kotter and WKRP In Cincinnati be waiting in the wings?

10 Canadian medals. In perhaps one of Canada's most exciting Olympic-medal wins this week, our relatively inexperienced men's eight rowing team made a dramatic surge in the final 500 metres of the 2,000-metre race to overtake the hometown Brits and win a silver. Almost better than gold. Beauty moment, eh?

11 Baby mama drama. A new love and relationship reality series with the working title Single and Pregnant is casting in the United States for single and pregnant women. It's being cast by the team behind Jersey Shore. This could be the end of pop culture.

Land of Arctic aliens

NICCOLÒ BONFADINI/SOLENT

Landscaping

Who is guarding the frozen north?

Judging by this mysterious photograph, these giant 'ice worms' sprouting out of the ground.

This incredible yet surreal picture actually shows trees buried in thick snow, on a landscape located close to the Arctic Circle.

Metro spoke with Italian photographer Niccolò Bonfadini on his eerie, yet striking image.

Behind the lens

- Bonfadini took this stunning shot while camping alone in Finland's beautiful Riisitunturi National Park. "I was blown away by the otherworldly landscape, everything was white as far as the eye could see. Everything was frozen," he told Metro.
- The young photographer of course faced many challenges in this barren frozen world. "What made the trip harder than average was the fact that I was completely alone. But I prefer it like that, I don't like crowds," he said. "My backpack weighed about 30 kilograms. What I ate consisted of powdered, freeze-dried food. And the temperature can go as low as -40 C."
- "The morning I took this picture was a very special one," Bonfadini said. "I had slept with my tent on top of a hill to watch the sunrise. An eerie mist was forming around the trees, enhancing the mysterious atmosphere. The three trees were standing right in front of me. They immediately appeared to be like sentinels to me. That is why I decided to name the photograph 'Sentinels of the Arctic.'" He added: "Some thought they were volcanic eruptions and clouds. To me they seemed to be alive like frozen people."
- "I used both a medium format analog camera and a Canon DSLR camera. Some graduated neutral density filters placed on the lens helped me achieve this result. By placing the filter's darker side against the sky it helped to retain more details in the lighter parts of the image by keeping their luminosity down."

Kate Beckinsale in Total Recall. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Reel Guys

RICHARD CROUSE AND MARK BRESLIN

All chase, no sci-fi

Total Recall. Too busy to be boring, this remake is a decent action flick, but falls flat as a paranoid sci-fi mind-bender

Richard: Mark, the original Total Recall was simultaneously beaten up on release for its level of violence and praised for its complex story. The same can't be said for the remake. The body count is still high, but the story plays more like a high-tech version of The Fugitive than a sci-fi mind-bender. It's a pretty good chase movie, but the sci-fi falls flat.

Mark: As does the storyline, the characters, the dialogue, and most importantly, the satire. It's too busy and kinetic to be a boring movie, but you don't care much about why all the carnage is taking place. I loved the original, Richard, but it had a nice, slow build and was a sly "mind-bender" as you call it. I don't know why they had to attempt a remake, unless it was to see what would happen if you put a real actor in the lead. But, sorry, it's Schwartzenegger 1, Farrell 0.

RC: Farrell is much more of an everyman than Arnold was, but I thought he pulled off the running, jumping, shooting and stabbing well enough. I was more taken, though, with the female characters. The original treated women like window dressing but here Kate Beckinsale and Jessica Biel are given meaty, action-packed parts. Beckinsale uses all the tricks she learned on the Underworld movies, kicking butt and taking names in every scene she's in, and while Biel won't need to wake up early on Academy Award day, she hands a physically energetic performance.

MB: I liked Biel, but Beckinsale's one expression wore thin on me quickly. I did like the production design, though it was clearly influenced by Blade Runner. I liked the elevators that move vertically and horizontally, the flying cars were great (and actually looked credible), but the army of bots looked so much like George Lucas' droids that I expected Jar Jar Binks to show up in a cameo.

RC: Ha! Beckinsale may only have one expression, but it's a pretty good one. As for everything else, it seems to me the movie values violence and action above all — more than story, humour or even the legendary three-breasted hooker who is glimpsed for all of two seconds. This movie clearly appreciates bullets over breasts.

MB: Good to know where you stand on that one, Richard! I wouldn't call it a bad movie, but a missed opportunity. Philip K. Dick, who wrote the original story decades ago, was a master of the paranoia missing from the remake, and I'm pretty sure the master would not approve.

Synopsis

Set in a dystopian world where most of the planet is uninhabitable, Farrell plays a troubled factory worker desperate to escape a life of grinding drudgery. Without telling his wife (Kate Beckinsale) he goes to Rekall Corp. to have a virtual vacation. They sell implanted memories, like video games for the mind. But something goes wrong and soon our hero is thrown into a deadly world of intrigue where he can't be sure what is real and what isn't.

Drama

Director. Fernando Meirelles

Stars. Anthony Hopkins, Rachel Weisz

Good people sometimes do bad things is the prevailing message behind 360, the latest film to attempt to create an interlocking cast of characters à la Babel. But where those films used flawed characters to convey a broader message, director Fernando Meirelles (City of God) seems disinterested in saying anything else. Frost/Nixon scribe Peter Morgan's script is airtight and the performances, which pair Hollywood A-listers like Anthony Hopkins and Rachel Weisz with lesser-known faces, are all strong. But with little to rally behind, Meirelles' actors are left flapping in the wind.

Documentary

The Queen of Versailles

Director. Lauren Greenfield

Stars. Jackie Siegel, David Siegel

Just when you thought you couldn't possibly muster sympathy for a spoiled billionaire, here comes The Queen of Versailles — a stirring documentary that examines a time-share mogul and his family just as they begin building a 90,000-square-foot house. But tones shift after the economy collapses and Lauren Greenfield catches the dangers of living beyond one's means like a fly on the wall. Or in this case, like one of Jackie Siegel's stuffed dead dogs on the mantle.

Comedy

Celeste and Jess Forever

Director. Lee Toland Krieger

Stars. Rashida Jones, Adam Samberg

While Celeste and Jesse Forever may assist in converting Rashida Jones (TV's Parks and Recreation) into a mainstream movie star, it certainly does little for Adam Samberg. Co-written by Jones, the quirky premise of a married couple trying to divorce while keeping a close friendship starts strong but soon zeroes in too much on its female lead. Still, this amusing comedy (albeit a bit uneven in tone) should relieve many moviegoers from the exhausting onslaught of straight-ahead big-budget summer blockbusters.

Ruby Sparks

Director. Jonathan Dayton, Valerie Feris

Stars. Paul Dano, Zoe Kazan

The new fantasy from indie darlings Paul Dano and Zoe Kazan uses an ancient story — the myth of Pygmalion who fell in love with one of his creations, only to have her come to life — as inspiration to explore an even older issue of how men and women relate to one another. It's a refreshing fantasy that grounds itself in reality as much as possible. Dano and Kazan, a couple in real life, bring great chemistry along with acting chops, elevating what could have been a grungy male fantasy into a sweetly observed look at loneliness and love.

Girlfriend Boyfriend

Director. Gillies Ya-che Yang

Stars. Joseph Hsiao-Chuan Chang

The love triangle is standard romantic drama stuff, but here it is given more room to breathe — 20 years, in fact. The film charts the three-way crush between two boys and a girl, and the twist is that Boy A has a secret yen for Boy B, though Boy B prefers the girl. Two decades later, against a politically charged 1990s Taipei backdrop, their threesome comes to head. Girlfriend Boyfriend is anchored by a strong performance by Joseph Hsiao-Chuan Chang as the initially struggling Liam, a boy whose love for another boy has to be kept mum. CHRIS ALEXANDER

Documentary

The Invisible War

Directors. Kirby Dick, Amy Ziering

Stars. Kori Cioca, Susan Burke, Ariana Klay

The Invisible War opens with the statement: "All statistics in this film are from U.S. government studies." According to this data, more than 20 per cent of female veterans have been sexually assaulted while in service. The U.S. government has had a wealth of (shocking) data on sexual assault and rape in the military for decades and yet nothing has been done to stop it. The documentary clearly aims to change this. The facts this film presents are alone worth the price of admission. But the honest, powerful testimony of the victims make it a must-see.

Diary of a Wimpy Kid: Dog Days

Director. David Bowers

Stars. Zachary Gordon, Steve Zahn

In the latest adaptation of Jeff Kinney's popular books, Diary of a Wimpy Kid: Dog Days focuses on lazy Greg Heffley's aimless summer vacation. Most notably, he tells his parents he got a job to cover up sneaking into a country club. Harmless but hardly inventive, the film may improve upon the franchise's previous outings, but without a solid narrative Wimpy Kid seems as restless as a hyperactive adolescent on summer break.

STEVE GOW

Quoted

"I would say really the only time it came into play was the three years of trying to get the movie made. Being an executive producer and a co-writer and knowing it was such a great part for me to be able to play, it was hard to keep taking the blows of the thing getting set up and then the thing crumbling. It was tough, but once I got on set, for me my only challenge that I wanted to tackle was doing a good job in the role and carrying the film, so I had to really shut all the other stuff down, you know?"

Parks and Recreation star Rashida Jones, who co-wrote and appears in the new film Celeste and Jesse Forever

Munn not ready for leading lady role yet

Hollywood. Star of The Newsroom and Magic Mike credits her success to following around some of the industry's biggest stars

Olivia Munn stars alongside Jeff Daniels in HBO's hit series The Newsroom. HANDOUT

Olivia Munn prides herself on working with three powerful S names in Hollywood: Jon Stewart on The Daily Show, Steven Soderbergh in the film Magic Mike and Aaron Sorkin on HBO's The Newsroom. But to hear her tell it, she's still an up-and-comer — and maybe a bit of a cheat.

"I kind of follow where they're going, 'Oh, (if they're on board) then that's probably a good script.' It's probably a cheat that way," she joked in a recent interview. "You guys do the homework and then if I'm lucky enough to be able to work with you then I will."

The 32-year-old actress has had a busy summer. Besides Magic Mike she has a new film out called The Babymakers, co-starring Paul Schneider, formerly of TV's Parks and Recreation.

On The Newsroom she plays Sloan Sabbith, a business reporter at the fictional Atlantic Cable News where Jeff Daniels' Will McAvoy has the flagship newscast. As in any Sorkin venture, there's an intense amount of dialogue to spout out, often at a rapid-fire pace. Munn says her trick is to memorize not only her part, but also the other character's lines to internalize the big picture.

Quote

"It took a long time to convince my Asian mother that I could do it."

Olivia Munn
On convincing her mother she could be a movie star.

"I refuse to be the person who is gonna come in and forget my line. Like if (Daniels) has to remember all this stuff and then be preparing for the next episode and all that dialogue then I'm going to do my best to come up to his bar," she said.

Despite all that effort, Munn jokes about making the dreaded, hypothetical phone call to her mother to say her Hollywood dreams didn't pan out.

"Mom, I'm working at the Jamba Juice now. You get a free boost. And I probably could hook you up with another boost."

Her mother is of Chinese descent but was born and raised in Vietnam.

Munn's parents split when she was young and she says her mother was a tiger mom.

"I'm like, 'You know, my white friends, their parents aren't forcing them to play piano until 4 a.m.' She's like, 'Your white friends can't play piano.' I'm like, 'OK, good note. Good argument, mom.'"

Munn says initially her mother wasn't keen on the idea of her daughter going into showbiz.

"It took a long time to convince my Asian mother that I could do it because she believed that only one person in the world could become a movie star and that was Tom Cruise. She's like, 'You're not Tom Cruise!'"

Now her mom is her biggest fan.

3 songs for the weekend

We're at the point in the summer where we're between the big releases of the spring and the ones scheduled for the fall. Here are three tracks that fill the gap nicely.

SOUND CHECK
Alan Cross

1 WARN-U/ Ayshay

This is an example of an apparently new doom-drone genre called distroid.

Do not watch the video after dark.

2 Angels/The xx

Here's the first taste of a Coexist, the minimalist Mercury-Prize-winning band's second album.

Pairs well with a cold chardonnay after sunset.

3 Sixpack/ Jeff the Brotherhood

Neither of these guys is named Jeff nor are they brothers.

Works well with a nighttime beer. Or six.

Bob DiPiero has written hits for every major country music star out there today. GETTY IMAGES

Country in his heart

Bob DiPiero. With a wealth of hits on his shelf, he isn't the most familiar face but has the credentials

LINDA LABAN
Metro World News

Bob DiPiero isn't a household name, but he's probably had more No. 1 hits than the country music superstars who've fronted his songs, like McGraw, Brooks & Dunn and Strait. But it isn't the fact that he's had, oh, 15 No. 1 hits and countless other charting songs that surprises DiPiero. It's that he's still in the game.

"The thing that most amazes me is that I'm still doing this 30 years from the first song that I ever had recorded, which was by Reba McEntire. That's like three lifetimes in a songwriter's career," DiPiero half-jokes. "It's my love and my passion, so I just feel lucky every day I still get to write songs."

The CMA board member also helmed the annual songwriter's tour, basing it on Nashville's Bluebird Cafe's in-the-round songwriter sessions, which similarly feature the people behind the hits with big stars often dropping by. Last summer, Kenny Chesney sat in on a tour stop and this year Carrie Underwood does likewise.

"Kenny really has a songwriter's heart. That's the key to these shows, especially when we have these iconic performers like Kenny and Carrie. They are both songwriters, they are both involved in writing their songs and choosing their songs. They take a seat at the shows with the right credentials."

J.Lo not playing around

Jennifer Lopez is suing tabloids Star magazine and In Touch Weekly for running a story alleging that her boyfriend, Casper Smart, has been spending quality time at a New York peepshow that's known to be a "gay cruising spot," according to RumorFix.

"These statements are false, malicious and defamatory. Ms. Lopez and Mr. Smart will pursue all remedies available to them under the law," an attorney for the couple says. A rep insists that Smart was actually visiting a tattoo parlour next door to the club.

The Word

Macaulay Culkin 'dead in six months'?

MONICA WEYMOUTH
scene@metronews.ca

Macaulay Culkin hasn't been doing much these days, but we just assumed that was because he's Macaulay Culkin.

The National Enquirer, however, claims that the actor has spent the past few years in a heroin hangover that's only getting worse.

"He's been hooked for a year and a half, and his drug of choice is either heroin or oxycodone," a source tells the paper (which, yes, we read — you're welcome).

"Mac is surrounding himself with junkies and lowlifes. It's a real tragedy."

Despite intervention, a friend tells the paper he's not listening, hence the photos of him looking gaunt and dishevelled: "His closest friends fear that he'll overdose or his heart will explode. If he doesn't get help and enter rehab now, he could be dead in six months."

Culkin's team, however, says there's no truth to the story.

"The report ... is not only categorically without merit, but it is also impossibly and ridiculously fictitious," his publicist tells E! Online.

If Culkin is struggling with addiction, we sincerely hope he gets the professional help he needs. If he isn't, well, we still sincerely hope he gets the professional help he needs — starting with a shave and ending with a trip above ground. Seriously kid, we have Girl Scout cookie ice cream up here now — join us!

Lip-smackin' flavours of whiskey

LIQUID ASSETS
Peter Rockwell
@therealwineguy
peterrockwell@eastlink.cca

With all due respect to wine fans, whiskey lovers are the ultimate liquid nerds who collect, study, analyze and keep to the traditions of their chosen spirit.

Much of that tradition has been tossed out the window this summer with a variety of flavoured whiskies hitting store shelves. For all you aficionados who just called 911, they're bringing a whole new audience to whiskey.

While the Scots have held off for now, North American distillers have jumped on the infused booze bandwagon with the zeal of an audience at a Justin Bieber concert.

Now, before you go all Lemon Gin on me, I've tried them all. Know what? They're quite interesting, particularly Jim Beam's Red Stag Black Cherry Bourbon ($26.25 - $28.49).

Though the name alone may be enough to send some American whiskey buffs into convulsions, I was quite charmed by its nice balance of natural black cherry flavour and the bourbon's charred, upfront personality.

Cocktail options abound with the fruit aspect of the booze holding its own against many a mix. That said, I prefer it served ice cold straight from the fridge all by its lonesome.

Bad girl chef Nadia G heats up your backyard

Long weekend. The Food Network star offers her tips for throwing a memorable barbecue get-together

DAN CLAPSON
life@metronews.ca

Our favourite bad girl in the kitchen, Nadia G, who is currently in the process of creating season three of her hit Food Network cooking show, Bitchin' Kitchen, has two cookbooks under her belt and a style that's all her own.

If anyone knows how to throw a rockin' backyard barbecue this long weekend, it's Nadia!

She imparts some great summer party inspiration.

What are some of your go-to summertime dishes?
I have a bunch of go-to dishes, but I like updating the hotdog by grabbing spicy Italian sausage and using minced giardiniera as the relish.

Combing mustard with maple syrup (is also great for) giving the hotdog experience a new twist.

Cooking for idiots. What is one thing someone can throw onto the grill that's virtually impossible to screw up?
Anyone can cook anything on a BBQ in foil. That's always a great trick. You're not using the direct heat and you can give the food the time it needs to cook completely.

How can someone add a simple Italian flare to barbecuing?
I like to make a simple Italian 'salsa' (bruschetta). It tastes delicious with meat or fish, with tortilla chips, crostini, even on roast potatoes, whatever it is!

If you had to pick: sangria, mojito or beer and why?
I'd have to say a mojito. I'm just a simple girl getting kicked out of bars in three-inch stilettos.

When things have too much flavour, like sangria, it can be a bit much with all the fruit and the wine, you also got some soda in there. You need to tread lightly.

Parties can get a little rowdy sometimes. Any advice on how to politely remove a drunken idiot?
How to remove a drunk person? Yeah…I'd have no one left at my backyard party! Ha, ha, ha. What kind of party is that?

If you could invite anyone to a summer barbecue, who would it be and why?
Anyone? Chris Farley 'cause he knows how to party!

Top 5 Tips

Here are the backyard barbecue tips Nadia thinks everyone should know.

- Playlist Essentials. You can't go wrong with Girl Talk. They're like your own personal DJ.
- Simple Dish. Fish with lemon, olives and cherry tomatoes wrapped in tin foil.
- Drink. Mojito. Quick to make and hard to screw up.
- Dessert. Sorbet topped with vodka. Vodka tastes good with everything.
- Safety first. Extra sunscreen. People start having a few drinks and before you know it, you have sun burnt guests.

A rockin' good Grilled Apricot and Feta Salad

This recipe serves four. SUBMITTED

1. Vinaigrette: In food processor, blend 4 tbsp extra-virgin olive oil, 3 tbsp of champagne vinegar, honey, vanilla extract, and garlic clove. Fold in the poppy seeds, sea salt and pepper.

2. Apricots: Heat a barbecue or a grill pan to medium-high. Baste the apricot halves with extra-virgin olive oil. Using tongs, sear the fleshy side of the apricots for 90 seconds, and then turn over to sear the skin side for 1 minute more. Remove them from the heat, and let cool.

3. Pickled onions: Heat a small saucepan over medium-high heat. Add the onion slices, pour in the remaining champagne vinegar, stir, and simmer until the onion slices turn bright pink, about 30 seconds. Remove from the heat and let cool slightly.

4. Divide the apricot halves equally among 4 plates. Sprinkle each serving with 1/4 cup of crumbled feta and a heaping tablespoon of pickled onions. Drizzle with the vinaigrette, and garnish with fresh mint leaves. COURTESY OF NADIA G

Ingredients

- extra virgin olive oil
- 1/3 cup champagne vinegar
- 1 tbsp creamed honey
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- ½ garlic clove
- 1 tbsp poppy seeds
- sea salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 8 apricots (halved and pitted)
- ½ small red onion (finely sliced)
- 1 cup crumbled feta cheese
- 4 fresh mint leaves

Capture summer in your cabinet

Canning. Think about the months ahead while you're snacking on fruit this summer

It's hard to think of canning in July, when you're still hungover from strawberries and busy licking sticky peach fingers.

But Marisa McClellan — the crafty Philly canner behind popular blog Food in Jars and its new spin-off cookbook — urges you to think of the months ahead while you're snacking your way through the farmers market.

"If you're looking to eat more locally and want to eat fruit in January, you have to can," she says.

As we enter the peak of "canning season" — April through October — we checked in with McClellan for a little fresh inspiration.

Peaches

Go ahead and pick too many — McClellan's site is packed with peach recipes. Try a simple peach butter, or dress up traditional canned peaches with a little bourbon or brandy.

Okra

"Okra pickles are a great thing for people who aren't sure about okra — you reduce its slime factor, and it turns into something really crisp and delicious," says McClellan.

Kohlrabi

Poor kohlrabi is famous for being the last one picked during the CSA box draft. But with the help of a food processor, this little cabbage-like veggie is the perfect jar candidate.

"It's a really good one for pickling," says McClellan. "It's super crunchy, and when you toss it with a vinegary liquid it just becomes bright and crisp and all of those things that you want in a pickle."

Apricots

"Apricots are one of those fruits that don't taste spectacular plain, but when you cook them into jam, it's spectacular," says McClellan. "Pick up a quart, cook them with a little bit of sugar and you're done."

Whatever you do with jams, don't alter the sugar ratios. "If you see a jam recipe and you think that's too much sugar, you can't change the recipe," she warns. "If you slash the sugar, you end up with syrup. It's not as if you're eating a whole jar of jam in one sitting — or, well, you shouldn't."

Just Opened: Emma's Country Kitchen

A new lunch and brunch spot has hit the city, at 1108 St. Clair Ave. W. Emma's Country Kitchen is bringing home cooking to your restaurant table, with classic dishes like Grams used to make. With a retail component — they sell the same baked goods you can order up, in addition to home-made frozen meals — Emma's Country Kitchen is a slice of old-school Canadiana for multicultural Toronto.

Just Opened: Pacific Junction Hotel

From the owners of Betty's comes the Pacific Junction Hotel, an eclectic and island-inspired resto-bar in the spot previously occupied by Brad Long's Veritas (236 King St. E.). Offering up intriguing plates (poutine spring rolls, anyone?), Tequila aplenty, and seats made from old tubs, Pacific Junction Hotel is an interesting new spot to say the least.

Just Opened: Riverside Public House

Found at 725 Queen St. E., Riverside Public House has a noteworthy pedigree: The menu was crafted by Top Chef Canada contestant Dustin Gallagher, and co-owner Nav Sangha counts Wrongbar and The Great Hall to his name. Offering up haute comfort food for the working class (read: the dishes are actually quite affordable), Riverside Public House also houses live music and a cocktail list developed by Matty Gregoris (ex-Susur).

Electronica experience

Downsview Park. August 4 and 5. Deadmau5. Steve Aoki. Kill the Noise. Avicii. Krewella ... need I go on? The VELD Music Festival — put on by INK Events — is a two-day EDM fest featuring some of the world's best electronic music DJs and talent. The big names hit the main stage, while the more up-and-coming folk will be technifying the Bacardi Tent. See you there?

Coming up: Greek deliciousness

Head on over to GreekTown August 10 through 12 for the Taste of the Danforth. This favourite food fest amongst pronoshers and the culturally savvy alike is back for another year of roaring Mediterranean et. al. flavours. The 19th year for TOTD features dozens of restaurants, vendors, entertainers, and the like giving attendees exactly what its moniker says.

Coming up: Summer classic CNE

The good ol' CNE is back at Exhibition Place August 17 through September 3, with all the usual suspects: The Midway, rides, food building, Air Show, farm, casino, Kids' World, and so much more. This year's concerts include Nick Carter, The Tea Party, Don McLean, and the Darcys among others. And this year's heart attack food, you ask? The bacon-wrapped, deep-fried hot dog. Life. Is. Good.

Does loyalty mean better insurance rates?

Drivers should look past loyalty as a means to saving money.

Many drivers assume that staying with the same insurance company for a long period of time leads to the best car insurance rates. While this may be true for some people who have a good driving profile and obtain loyalty discounts, it is not always the case. The rates charged by different insurance companies to insure the same driver, with the same car, for the exact same coverage, can vary by hundreds and even thousands of dollars. And with so many insurance companies providing car insurance in Ontario, odds are you are not currently insured with the company that offers the best rate for your driving profile.

One of the ways insurance companies try to keep customers around is by offering perks to loyal customers. Often insurance customers believe that by looking for a new insurance policy they will wind up paying more since they'll have to forfeit any loyalty discounts and perks they have earned. In many cases, however, a lower rate with another insurance company could save you money because the rate difference offsets any earned loyalty rewards from your current company. There is no risk to taking some time to shop around and get insurance quotes. And your current insurer will not know that you are looking, unless you tell them. Comparing car insurance quotes will give you a better idea of how your current rate stacks up in comparison with what is available at another company.

Insurance quoting sites like InsuranceHotline.com can help by providing an independent, unbiased rate comparison from a network of over 30 insurance companies to find you a lower rate available for your profile.

You don't owe loyalty to your insurance provider. You owe money.

And possibly too much.

Your loyalty discount may not save you as much as you think. Insurance rates can vary by hundreds, even thousands of dollars. But InsuranceHotline.com will always provide the lowest rates available within our network of over 30 premier insurance companies.

Toronto Argonauts running back Cory Boyd is tripped up by Calgary Stampeders linebacker Juwan Simpson in Toronto on July 7. FRANK GUNN/THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cory Boyd staying grounded for Argos

CFL. Aware of his stats, rushing leader says his main goal is to help his team win games

Cory Boyd is making the most of his chances this season.

Through five games, the Toronto tailback is the CFL's leading rusher with 424 yards and is averaging a solid 5.7 yards per carry. That's not too shabby considering Argonauts head coach Scott Milanovich figures his team has only run the ball effectively in two of its contests to date.

"I'm not disappointed," Milanovich said following Thursday's practice. "We know we can do it.

"It's just like everything else, we need to be more consistent. We had a couple of opportunities where we could've run it well and we have to take advantage of that."

Toronto's aerial attack, spearheaded by veteran quarterback Ricky Ray, has played a major role in the club's offensive resurgence in 2012. The Argos (3-2) sport the CFL's second-ranked passing attack with Ray, the former Edmonton Eskimos star currently the league's second-leading passer.

The Argos can do more than just throw the ball on offence. Boyd anchors a ground attack that's ranked fourth overall, averaging 98.8 yards per game.

However, after running for a season-high 168 yards in a 36-27 road loss to Hamilton on July 14, Boyd has rushed for a combined 107 yards on 27 carries in Toronto's last two contests, both wins.

Despite that, the six-foot-one, 213-pound Boyd tops the CFL rushing ranks, 57 yards ahead of impressive Hamilton rookie Chevon Walker. And while Boyd is typical of most running backs in wanting the ball as much as possible, he says his main goal is helping Toronto rack up wins.

"I'm always looking to make a big play whenever I get the ball," he said. "If it's one time, two times, however many times I'm just trying to capitalize on every opportunity.

"I'm already ready. It just takes one carry for me to get right." THE CANADIAN PRESS

Tough test

Boyd will be in tough when Toronto hosts the B.C. Lions (3-2) on Monday. Not only are the Lions the defending Grey Cup champions, but their defence is the league's stingiest against the run, surrendering just 77.2 yards per game.

Birdies soar Furyk to top of the leaderboard

Jim Furyk finally made some birdies — a lot of them — for a 7-under 63 to take the lead Thursday in the Bridgestone Invitational.

On a warm day with little wind, Furyk took advantage of the pristine conditions at Firestone to build a two-shot lead over Lee Slattery of England after one round of this World Golf Championship.

Tiger Woods, a seven-time winner at Firestone, looked as if he might be part of the leaderboard until his last six holes. He had to lay up with his third shot on a par 5 and three-putted from 25 feet on the 18th for an even-par 70. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

RAY FINDING HIS WAY JUST FINE

New Argos QB thriving under coach Milanovich; Stampeders have gone Johnny Knoxville; and Roughriders fans need to take a deep breath

CFL EXTRA POINTS
Dan Toth
toronto@metronews.ca

Toronto Argos: QB Ricky Ray needed about five minutes to feel comfortable running Scott Milanovich's Argos offence. Ray has completed 69% of his passes and is second in passing yards with 1,542 yards. Ray has also thrown twice as many TD passes as interceptions, a ratio that will make you a winner most weeks.

B.C. Lions: We've gone from asking 'What's wrong with the Lions?' to tagging them one of the top teams in the CFL through five weeks. After losing two straight, an impressive win in Calgary has them perched among five teams tied for the top record at 3-2. Parity reigns as 10 games this season (50%) have been decided by four or fewer points while the usually dominant West Division holds just a 6-4 record against the East.

Edmonton Eskimos: QB Steven Jyles is under more pressure to perform than any player in the CFL. That's what makes his fumble last week in Winnipeg that prevented a possible comeback win over the Bombers so glaring, despite posting his best game statistically as an Eskimo. Maybe Jyles is trying too hard to make Esks fans forget Ricky Ray.

Calgary Stampeders: Why do so many talented Stamps players act like jackasses? This week it was Jon Cornish's turn, criticizing the play of his offensive line after his putrid performance in rushing for minus-1 yard on six carries in a loss to B.C. Even though he later apologized, it's an unwritten rule that you never trash the big men who get paid to make you a star.

Saskatchewan Roughriders: After gassing huge fourth-quarter leads in back-to-back games, some Rider faithful are calling for the firing of defensive co-ordinator Richie Hall, and the banishment of QB Darian Durant. Good gawd people, give your heads a shake. The Riders are 3-2 and tied for first in the West. What did Green fans expect, an undefeated season? The team's current record is a more accurate reflection of who they are.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats: It's still very early and the Tabbies are only 3-2, but three straight wins and some sensational play from Henry Burris makes him an early-season favourite as the best off-season acquisition. Burris leads the league with 15 TD passes and has earned offensive player of the month for July, making the Cats' off-season swap with Calgary look like a stroke of genius for Steeltown's finest.

Torontonians swing into medal match

Badminton. Duo known as 'Bruce Li' will play for bronze Saturday after 8 players expelled

Canada's Alex Bruce, left, and Michelle Li eye a shot during their semifinal match against Japan in women's doubles badminton at the 2012 Summer Olympics, Thursday. Japan won the match 2-1. RYAN REMIORZ/THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canada's Alex Bruce and Michelle Li will play for a bronze medal in badminton, thanks to a shuttlecock scandal that has rocked the sport at the London Olympics.

The Toronto players were beaten by No. 4 seeds Mizuki Fujii and Reika Kakiwa 21-12, 19-21, 21-13 in the doubles semifinals Thursday.

They'll play Russians Valeria Sorokina and Nina Vislova for third-place Saturday at Wembley Arena in an unlikely Olympic storyline neither Canadian could have envisioned.

The 22-year-old Bruce and 20-year-old Li — known on the badminton circuit as Bruce Li — thought their Games were over barely a day earlier, but found themselves in the semifinals after eight players were expelled from the competition for losing on purpose.

Canada has never qualified for the semifinals or won an Olympic medal in badminton.

The Canadians, No. 27 in the world, were prepared to head home after they finished last in their pool by a combined score of 126-52.

But two of those defeats came against teams that were disqualified Wednesday, accused of throwing their matches to set up a more advantageous path through the medal round.

The Canadians, gold medallists at the Pan American Games last fall in Mexico, were reinstated and just hours later went on to defeat Australia's Leanne Choo and Renuga Veeran in the quarterfinals. THE CANADIAN PRESS

A silver lining in second place

The Canadian women's eight celebrate before Thursday's medal ceremony.
STEVE RUSSELL/TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Rowing. Canadian women 'can't be disappointed' with silver-medal finish behind U.S.

Andreanne Morin clutched her Olympic silver medal, as if remembering every early morning training session and aching muscle that preceded it.

"For me this is the culmination of my 12 years of rowing," said the 30-year-old from Quebec City, after Canada's second-place finish in the women's eight Thursday. "I'm talking to you and holding onto this (medal) quite tightly, because it's the proof, the material proof of what I've done.

"It's a lot about the journey and what you live with these teammates. That's how I look at it today. It was an exceptional race, it really was."

The Canadian women lost to an exceptional team. The U.S., champions in Beijing, have not been beaten in six years.

But it was a photo finish in May when the two met at a World Cup in Lucerne, Switzerland, where the U.S. won by just 0.03 seconds.

On Thursday, the powerful Americans led all the way to win in six minutes 10.59 seconds. The Canadians charged at them down the stretch, posting the fastest splits in the final 1,000 metres, but could not peg them back and finished in 6:12.06 ahead of the Dutch in 6:13.12.

"I have to take my hat off to the U.S. crew," said Peter Cookson, Rowing Canada's high performance director. "We literally did everything we could to try to win the race.

"When you look at all the training we did and all the physiology work we did, all the recovery work we did with that group. And they're an unbelievably great group of women in our Canadian boat. And for them to get beat, that must take a really great crew to beat them."

Cookson noted the women's eight had come from "not a great place in 2009," when they barely made the final at the world championships. Now they are the team keeping the U.S. on their toes.

To a woman, the Canadians were beaming after the race. They were also emotional, knowing a changing of the guard is inevitable after the Olympic quadrennial.

But there were no regrets. The women clambered over the fence in front of the friends and family section to hug loved ones and show off their medals under the sun at Eton Dorney.

"We went to win and didn't do it, but sure are enjoying the silver," said 52-year-old coxswain Lesley Thompson-Willie.

"No regrets, great race."

Lauren Wilkinson of North Vancouver said the Canadians had given it their all.

"Obviously we wish that our bow had been in front but we just gave it our everything," said Wilkinson. "I don't think a single person in that boat had anything left in the tank. So we have no regrets even though it wasn't necessarily the colour of medal we had hoped for."

Added Winnipeg's Janine Hanson: "Silver's great. We can't be disappointed with that at all."

The medal was the second for Canadian rowers here. The men's eight won silver behind Germany on Wednesday.

Also on the Canadian team were Ashley Brzozowicz of London Ont., Krista Guloien, of Port Moody B.C., Darcy Marquardt of Richmond B.C., Natalie Mastracci of Thorold, Ont., and Rachelle Viinberg of Regina. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Five-for-seven

It's back to the classroom for Lesley Thompson-Willie, with a fifth Olympic medal in tow.

- The 52-year-old high school teacher/librarian from London, Ont., is the first Canadian athlete to win medals in five different Olympic Games.
- London is Thompson-Willie's seventh Olympics — it would have been eight had it not been for the 1980 boycott of the Moscow Games. She won silver with the four in 1984 and gold with the eight in 1992, silver in 1996 and bronze in 2000.

Phelps bests Lochte for his first solo gold in London

Michael Phelps, right, and Ryan Lochte pose with their medals after the men's 200-metre individual medley final on Thursday in London, England. They finished first and second, respectively. CLIVE ROSE/GETTY IMAGES

Michael Phelps added to his medal collection with his first individual gold of the London Games, and handed Ryan Lochte a double disappointment on his rival's final night in the pool.

Phelps set the tone right from the start Thursday to become the first male swimmer to win the same individual event at three straight Olympics, capturing the 200-metre individual medley for his 20th career medal — and 16th gold. He touched in 1 minute, 54.27 seconds, just off his winning time in Beijing, but still good enough for gold. Lochte settled for silver and Hungary's Laszlo Cseh took the bronze.

So a farewell games that started as a bit of a disappointment for Phelps is definitely looking up. He's now won two golds and two silvers in five races — not up to his standards when he went 8-for-8 in China four years ago, but a fitting capper to a brilliant career that still has two more events to go.

As soon as Phelps finished off Lochte, he hopped out of the pool and headed to the nearby diving well to warm down, knowing he still had a semi-final of the 100 butterfly before the night was done. He was the top qualifier in that one, setting up a rematch in Friday's final against Milorad Cavic — a Serbian who still seems to think he got to the wall first in Beijing but lost by a hundredth of a second.

"Going into every call room, I said it's my last semifinal or my last prelim or my last semi of the 100 fly, so tonight is the last semi ever," said Phelps, who plans to retire from swimming as soon as he touches the wall for the final time in London. "We're kind of chalking up all the lasts of certain things." THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Phelps vs. Lochte

The number of medals won by the American swimmers:

- Phelps. Four medals — two golds and two silvers — with the chance of finishing the Games with six.
- Lochte. Five medals — two golds, two silvers, one bronze.

Bolt's chance to take over London

Track-and-field. 2008's 100-metre champion wants to be 'living legend,' but will face big test in countryman Blake

An image of Usain Bolt is projected onto the British House of Parliament during last Friday's opening ceremony. FENG LI/GETTY IMAGES FILE

By the time Usain Bolt's showboating, record-breaking, gold-gobbling act on the track got revved up at the Beijing Games four years ago, Michael Phelps was already firmly established as the star of those Olympics.

Nothing anyone did — even Bolt's unprecedented sweep of the 100, 200 and 4x100-metre relay with best-in-history times — could possibly steal the spotlight from Phelps and his eight-gold performance in the pool.

Now it's a different story.

The first week of the London Olympics left a noticeable vacancy on centre stage. As if on cue, up steps Bolt, the effervescent Jamaican sprinter who comes in with the most to win, and lose, as the 10-day athletics meet begins Friday at 80,000-seat Olympic Stadium.

Bolt wants nothing less than to become a "living legend" and is well aware that repeat victories in the two individual sprints will put him there. Of course, he'll need to be better than countryman Yohan Blake, who upset Bolt in the 100 and 200 finals at the Jamaican trials.

Win or not, Bolt is guaranteeing a good show.

"Hands down. For sure," he said. "I'm thinking this could easily be one of the fastest 100 metres anybody has ever seen, because these guys have shown a lot of potential throughout the season. There are guys that have been running fast, especially because it's an Olympic year."

Bolt was coasting, thumping his chest before he crossed the finish line when he set the world record in Beijing at 9.69 seconds. At the world championships a year later, he lowered it to 9.58. Bolt and his coach, Glen Mills, both say a 100-metre run in the 9.4-second range is possible, but only if the weather in London co-operates. The forecast for Sunday's final calls for murky skies with a 30 per cent chance of rain.

Beyond Bolt and Blake, nearly every main contender in the marquee event has a good story to tell. There are Americans Tyson Gay (oft-injured, still in search of an Olympic medal) and Justin Gatlin (2004 Olympic champion, back in 2012 after a four-year doping ban), and another Jamaican, 29-year-old Asafa Powell, a former world-record holder who is still fast.

Hayden back in pool hours after win

Celebrating an Olympic medal all night instead of swimming another race was not an option for Brent Hayden.

Hours after winning his bronze in the 100 freestyle, Hayden was back on the start blocks in the 50-metre freestyle Thursday.

He didn't make it to the final, but he still felt it was worth doing.

"I'm in an event in the Olympics," Hayden said. "You've got take that opportunity. For me, it's never going to come around again.

"I knew I was an outside shot, but I knew if I did nail my race, I knew that I would have actually had a shot to be in the final and maybe even go for a podium."

WHAT CANADA DID

Thursday at the 2012 London Olympics:

BADMINTON

Women's doubles — Alexandra Bruce and Michele Li, both Toronto, lost their semifinal match to Mizuki Fujii and Reika Kakiiwa of Japan, 2-1 (21-12, 19-21, 21-13), and will play the Russian team for the bronze medal.

BEACH VOLLEYBALL

Women — Annie Martin, Lachine, Que., and Marie-Andree Lessard, Lasalle, Que. (0-3 in round-robin), were eliminated after losing 2-1 to Marta Menegatti and Greta Cicolari of Italy.

GYMNASTICS

Women's all-around final — Dominique Pegg of Sarnia, Ont., placed 17th overall with a score of 55.565 points.

JUDO

Women's under-78 kilogram class — Amy Cotton, Montreal, lost in the elimination round to Audrey Tcheumeo, France, by Yuko, De-ashi-barai.

ROWING

Women's lightweight double sculls — Lindsay Jennerich and Patricia Obee, both Victoria, were fourth in their semifinal in seven minutes 14.83 seconds, and will race in the B-final.

Women's eights (with coxswain) — Canada (Ashley Brzozowicz, London, Ont.; Krista Guloien, Port Moody, B.C.; Janine Hanson, Winnipeg; Darcy Marquardt, Richmond, B.C.; Natalie Mastracci, Thorold, Ont.; Andreanne Morin, Quebec City; Lesley Thompson-Willie, London, Ont.; Rachelle Viinberg, Regina; Lauren Wilkinson, North Vancouver, B.C.) won the silver medal (6:12.06).

Men's double sculls — Michael Braithwaite, Duncan, B.C., and Kevin Kowalyk, Winnipeg, placed sixth in the B-final (6:32.61).

Men's fours — Canada (William Dean, Kelowna, B.C.; Anthony Jacob, Victoria; Derek O'Farrell, Montreal; Michael Wilkinson, North Vancouver, B.C.) placed fifth in their semifinal (6:08.90) and are relegated to the B-final.

Horoscopes

♈ Aries
March 21 - April 20
You will find it hard to get through your "to do" list today — your heart is just not in it. In which case, why not take the hint and relax for a while? It's not as if you haven't earned it.

♉ Taurus
April 21 - May 21
You may be tempted to cut a deal that gives you less than you know you are worth but you are strongly advised not to do it. If you give in once, you will be expected to do it again and again.

♊ Gemini
May 22 - June 21
You seem to be at peace with yourself at the moment, which isn't something you can say too often. Wherever you go and whatever you do, nothing will faze you. If only every day could be this easy!

♋ Cancer
June 22 - July 23
If you are a typical Cancerian you will want to do something creative today, something in which you can involve both your head and your hands. It will be more exciting if you do it with like-minded people.

♌ Leo
July 24 - Aug. 23
You are in a generous mood at the moment — you want to share your good fortune with the whole world. That may not be possible but you can share it with a special few, who in turn will share it with others.

♍ Virgo
Aug. 24 - Sept. 23
Do you tell a friend what they need to hear, or what they want to hear? It's got to be the former, even though they may dislike what you say and dislike you for saying it. They'll thank you one day.

♎ Libra
Sept. 24 - Oct. 23
Find a way to escape the daily grind, if only for a few hours. You need to spend some time by yourself to get your thoughts in order and decide what you ought to do next. Clear a space for your mind.

♏ Scorpio
Oct. 24 - Nov. 22
Take time out from your busy schedule today to get to know someone who is sending you signals you cannot ignore. Could it be the start of a new romantic relationship? Yes. But it's not the only possibility.

♐ Sagittarius
Nov. 23 - Dec. 21
How often do you say the three magic words "I love you"? Not often enough. Make it your number one priority today to remind the most special person in your life that you still care deeply for him or her.

♑ Capricorn
Dec. 22 - Jan. 20
You may be a bit of a workaholic by nature but you can sense it is time to slow down. As the week draws to a close you should draw a line between work time and play time — and favour the latter.

♒ Aquarius
Jan. 21 - Feb. 19
You are in love with the world and everyone in it. Well, OK, maybe not everyone, but most people, the good people, the ones who share your desire to make the world a better place. Very few don't.

♓ Pisces
Feb. 20 - March 20
There is something you want to say but are reluctant to do so because you fear it won't go down well with loved ones. Maybe it won't, but the truth is the truth. Sooner or later, it is sure to come out.
